Mexican-born actress has marriage fraud court date

LOS ANGELES, May 10, 2010 (AP): A Mexican-born actress is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Los Angeles on charges that she had a phony marriage.

Twenty-eight-year-old Fernanda Romero and 28-year-old Kent Ross are accused of marriage fraud. Each could face up to five years in federal prison if convicted.

Authorities contend that Romero paid Ross to marry her in 2005 in order to become a U.S. resident but that the two never lived together.

An investigation began after Romero's ex-boyfriend, fashion photographer Mark Klinko, told immigration authorities her marriage was a sham.

Romero has had roles in several small films, including last year's "Drag Me to Hell." She's better-known in Mexico, where she appeared in the TV Azteca soap "Eternamente Tuya."

ABRIL / MAYO

Edición Especial de Lazo Cultural para La Prensa

¡REPUDIO!

• Marchas en 70 ciudades en contra de la "Ley Arizona" y a favor de una reforma migratoria

• Políticos fracasan en tema de inmigración

PHOENIX- El diario de mayor circulación de Arizona criticó el domingo a los senadores John McCain y Jon Kyl, junto con otros funcionarios, señalando en un inusual editorial de primera página que los políticos han sido incapaces de hallar soluciones a la inmigración de indocumentados.

El estado se ha convertido en blanco de manifestaciones y llamamientos al boicot desde la sanción de una ley que obliga a la policía a interrogar a las personas acerca de su situación migratoria si tienen motivos para sospechar que se encuentran ilegalmente en el país. "El gobierno federal está claudicando de su obligación en la frontera. Los políticos de Arizona están medrando con el miedo del público", dijo el Arizona Republic. "El resultado es una ley estatal que intimida a los latinos a la vez que no hace nada por controlar la inmigración ilegal".

El editorial se publica un día después que miles de personas marcharon para manifestarse en contra de la ley en Phoenix y Tucson, mientras que los participantes en los mítines del Día del Trabajo en Chicago, Nueva York, San Francisco y otras ciudades también criticaron la medida.

En Los Angeles, la policía dijo que unos 50.000 manifestantes salieron a las calles. McCain solía ser el paladín de una amplia reforma migratoria, pero abandonó sus principios mientras resiste el desafío electoral en la primaria republicana por parte del ex representante nacional J.D. Hayworth, dijo el Republic.

Kyl también ha abandonado los esfuerzos por una reforma amplia y no está dispuesto a colaborar con los demócratas en esa cuestión ahora que es miembro del liderazgo republicano en el Senado, comenta el diario.

El editorial menciona también a la gobernadora Jan Brewer, la ex gobernadora y actual secretaria de Seguridad Nacional Janet Napolitano y al controvertido alguacil del condado de Maricopa, Joe Arpaio.

Dijo que Napolitano "olvidó todos los argumentos que alguna vez esgrimió para exigir que el gobierno de (George W.) Bush encarase la reforma migratoria y compensara al estado de Arizona por los costos de la frontera fragmentada", agrega.

El periódico reclama una reforma que permita a los indocumentados ganarse la ciudadanía, asegure las fronteras y sancione enérgicamente a los empleadores que contratan a trabajadores indocumentados. También deben instrumentarse cambios para "crear un curso legal para futuros trabajadores con base a la demanda y temporal", dice el Republic. "Cuando la mano de obra migrante es canalizada por medio de los puestos de entrada fronterizos legales, la Patrulla Fronteriza puede concentrarse en perseguir a narcotraficantes y otros criminales, en vez de perseguir a camareros por el desierto", afirma. "Los verdaderos líderes tienen la valentía de decirlo. Necesitamos verdaderos líderes".

En la víspera, manifestantes en todo Estados Unidos expresaron su furia por la nueva ley represiva de la inmigración ilegal y urgieron al presidente Barack Obama a que abrace inmediatamente la causa de la reforma migratoria.

Desde Los Angeles hasta Washington, activistas, familias, estudiantes e incluso funcionarios públicos marcharon, ejercieron la desobediencia civil y "confesaron" su estatus migratorio en nombre de los derechos de los inmigrantes, incluidos los alrededor de 12 millones que viven sin documentos en Estados Unidos.

Obama había prometido abordar la reforma migratoria durante sus primeros 100 días de gobierno, pero la pospuso varias veces. Días atrás dijo que el Congreso carecía de "apetito" para abordar la inmigración después de un período de sesiones arduo.

Sin embargo, Obama y el Congreso podrían abordar asuntos afines tales como el aumento de recursos y personal para la seguridad en la frontera en proyectos de gasto para este año.

5 de Mayo, Batalla de Puebla

En 1861, después de la larga lucha conocida como la "Guerra de Tres años", México estaba en pésimas condiciones económicas y políticas. Tenía una enorme deuda con España, Francia e Inglaterra en la que se invertía casi todo el dinero y no se podían atender las necesidades básicas de la población.

Por ello, el Presidente Benito Juárez, declaró una moratoria que duraría dos años, o sea que acordó no pagarles durante este tiempo para que México pudiera reponerse.

Esta decisión, no gustó a las naciones extranjeras y fue el pretexto para que pensarán en la intervención del país. Además aprovecharon el momento, pues los conservadores mexicanos habían recurrido a las cortes europeas para traer a un príncipe extranjero que pudiera gobernar a México.

Así, en octubre de 1861, España, Inglaterra y Francia se reunieron y decidieron invadir el país, para ello formaron una Alianza Militar Tripartita, a pesar de que hablaban de respetar la integridad nacional y el gobierno que se había formado.

Pero, si bien el motivo de la invasión era exigir el pago de las deudas, los países extranjeros tenían otros intereses particulares:

- España quería recuperar el dominio de México, porque había perdido sus colonias en América. Su comercio estaba en decadencia y su industria muerta.

- Inglaterra, contaba con un gran poder industrial y financiero y su imperio se había extendido por Asia y África, pero también querían extenderlo en América.

- El imperio Francés se había desarrollado mucho en Europa y quería abrir nuevos mercados y establecer ricas colonias mineras.

Así fue, con una idea común, pero con distintos fines, los ejércitos de los tres países aliados llegaron a México. La armada española llegó primero a Veracruz y semanas después llegaron las fuerzas inglesa y francesa.

Juárez les pidió que llegaran a un arreglo amistoso y en 1862 se entrevistaron con él. Como resultado de las negociaciones elaboraron un documento llamado los Acuerdos o Tratados de Soledad y aceptaron la propuesta de Juárez sobre el pago de la deuda.

En esta reunión también reconocieron el gobierno de Juárez; declararon que respetarían la integridad y la independencia nacional; establecieron que las negociaciones se llevarían a cabo en Orizaba, y las fuerzas establecerían sus cuarteles en las ciudades de Córdoba, Orizaba y Tehuacan y que en caso de declararse rotas las relaciones, las tropas aliadas volverían a la costa de Veracruz.

España e Inglaterra cumplieron con los Acuerdos, pero Francia no lo hizo y mandó tropas para invadir el país, por lo que se rompió la alianza.

A principios de marzo de 1862, llegó a Veracruz el conde Laurencez con un ejército formado por 6 mil hombres, perfectamente armados y disciplinados, tenían abundantes víveres y municiones, y eran considerados excelentes soldados a causa de sus brillantes victorias en Europa.

A este ejército se le sumaron varias "tropas" de conservadores al mando de Leonardo Márquez y se incorporaron con el General Almonte y otros conservadores enemigos del gobierno de Juárez.

Laurencez avanzó hacia el interior del país y en las Cumbres de Acultzingo tuvo su primer obstáculo militar, pero esta acción fue solo una advertencia, porque el jefe del Ejército de Oriente, había decidido terminar con los invasores en la ciudad de Puebla.

El ejército francés llegó a la ciudad de Puebla el 5 de mayo de 1862 que estaba custodiada por el Gral. Ignacio Zaragoza, quien defendió la plaza sin temor a enfrentarse al mejor ejército del mundo.

Laurencez creía que era fácil vencer al ejército mexicano, por lo que sin tomar las precauciones necesarias, ordenó el asalto a los fuertes de Loreto y Guadalupe, que defendían la ciudad de Puebla.

El ejército del general Ignacio Zaragoza, estaba formado de 4,800 hombres, pero en las tres ocasiones que los franceses atacaron los fuertes de Loreto y Guadalupe, fueron rechazados heroicamente por lo indígenas zacapoaxtlan.

Finalmente, el ejército francés fue derrotado y el general Ignacio Zaragoza, mandó un mensaje telegráfico al presidente Juárez, que decía "Las armas nacionales se han cubierto de gloria".

La batalla de Puebla demostró la unión de la población mexicana y reforzó la identidad nacional, pero además ayudó a definir algunos aspectos de la política exterior de México, como son:

- El respeto por la soberanía y la integridad territorial.

- La no agresión.

- La no interferencia en los asuntos internos de otros estados

- la conciliación de diferencias a través de la negociación y no a través de la fuerza, y

- la coexistencia pacífica.

Los Demócratas Revelan la “Propuesta Conceptual” para la Reforma Migratoria

El jueves, el líder de la mayoría del Senado, Harry Reid, junto con el Asistente del líder de la mayoría Senado Dick Durbin, el Presidente del Comité Judicial del Senado, Patrick Leahy, el Presidente del Subcomité de Inmigración Chuck Schumer, y los Senadores Dianne Feinstein y Bob Menéndez celebraron una conferencia de prensa para hacer pública la “Propuesta Conceptual para la Reforma Migratoria”.

Durante meses, los Senadores Shumer y Lindsey Graham (R-SC) han estado en discusiones sobre el contenido de un proyecto de reforma migratoria. En las últimas semanas, el Senador Graham ha retirado su apoyo a la reforma de inmigración, insistiendo en que la legislación del cambio climático, en lo que ha estado trabajando también (con los Senadores Kerry y Lieberman) suba primero al Senado.

Con el tiempo transcurriendo en éste período de sesiones del Congreso, los Demócratas decidieron entregar su marco de trabajo, que contiene las ideas de los debates de ambos partidos, e invitar a otros Republicanos sin esperar que el tiempo expire.

Las ideas contenidas en la propuesta son un punto de partida para un proyecto de Ley que se pretende conseguir por medio del Senado. Eso significa, por supuesto, que la forma en cómo se harán cumplir las leyes de inmigración en el futuro. Las reglas propuestas serán aplicadas, sin embargo, en el contexto de un programa generoso para sacar a los inmigrantes indocumentados de las sombras y reformar los sistemas de inmigración basados en el empleo o vínculos familiares para eliminar los atrasos, reducir los futuros embotellamientos y crear más canales legales para los trabajadores inmigrantes.

Tratamiento de los Inmigrantes Indocumentados: La propuesta permitirá a los 11 millones de inmigrantes indocumentados, que viven diariamente con el temor de ser deportados, que den inicio a un proceso que les posibilitará legalizar su situación y vivir una vida normal sin el miedo de ser separados de sus familiares. Los inmigrantes indocumentados que se encuentren en los Estados Unidos desde la fecha en la que el proyecto de ley sea introducido serán elegibles para un programa de registro en el que, suponiendo que no se descubran problemas durante un proceso de control de seguridad, les dará un carácter provisional con permiso de trabajo y la capacidad de viajar al extranjero. El período de registro comenzará sin tomar en cuenta los detonantes de aplicación en otra parte de la propuesta (llegaremos a eso más adelante). AgJOBS y el DREAM Act están incluidos.

Una vez los atrasos familiares estén libres, que se supone sea de ocho años, los inmigrantes en proceso de legalización podrán solicitar la residencia permanente. La elegibilidad se determina por criterios similares a los que se han incluido en anteriores proyectos de ley de reforma – un manejo del idioma inglés, el pago de impuestos, la revisión de antecedentes penales y controles de seguridad y el pago de impuestos.

Los cónyuges e hijos menores de edad, de las personas que hayan adquirido carácter provisional serán elegibles para unirse a sus familiares legalizados.

Esta propuesta ofrece a los inmigrantes que han estado viviendo en los Estados Unidos, un Estatus de Protección Temporal, y aquellos que siempre ha vivido con la preocupación que llegaría el día en que tendrían que salir de los Estados Unidos, podrán solicitar su legalización.

Inmigración Familiar: La propuesta eliminará los retrasos en el sistema de inmigración familiar, por un período de ocho años. No se especifica cómo se hará. En el futuro, los cónyuges e hijos menores de edad, de residentes permanentes serán tratados como “familiares directos”, poniéndolos en la misma categoría que los cónyuges e hijos menores de ciudadanos de los Estados Unidos. El resto de las categorías de preferencia familiar se sitúa en el mismo límite numérico global, excepto que el límite máximo por país se incrementará de un 7 a 10 por ciento del total de los ingresos.

En otras palabras, la propuesta pretende eliminar los actuales retrasos que han mantenido a miembros de familias separados durante años, y hace los cambios que debieran reducir la probabilidad que retrasos importantes se presenten en el futuro.

La propuesta también permitirá a los compañeros permanentes de ciudadanos estadounidenses y residentes permanentes legales para obtener visas de inmigrante, y para los refugiados y asilados que eliminaría brecha de un año entre la concesión del estatuto de refugiado o asilado y la solicitud de residencia permanente, eliminando así la duplicación y acelerar la integración.

Como se mencionó arriba, los cónyuges y los hijos menores de edad de las personas que hayan obtenido el estatus provisional podrán ser elegibles para unirse a su familiar legalizado.

Trabajadores Inmigrantes: Por primera vez, la propuesta provee un número significativo de visas para los inmigrantes menos calificados, que serán capaces de llegar en un programa especial de visas temporales de 3 años, para trabajadores no-estacionales y no-agrícolas. Trabajadores que desean convertirse en residentes permanentes puede cambiar su situación si cumplen con ciertos “parámetros de integración”. De lo contrario, ésta visa es renovable una vez. El número de visas disponibles se ajustará hacia arriba y hacia abajo dependiendo de lo que suceda en la economía del país. Es la falta de visas disponibles para éstos trabajadores en el sistema actual (apenas 5.000 por año) lo que ha sido el motor principal de la inmigración ilegal.

Actualmente los programas de trabajadores temporales han fortalecido la protección de los trabajadores y el programa de trabajadores agrícolas (H-2A), será reformado en concordancia con el acuerdo entre los defensores de los trabajadores agrícolas y los agricultores consagrados en AgJOBS.

La propuesta también ofrece mayores oportunidades para inmigrantes altamente calificados para convertirse en residentes permanentes, entre otras cosas, ofreciendo la residencia permanente a estudiantes extranjeros que se gradúen en las universidades de los Estados Unidos, y la eliminación de los límites por país de visado para inmigrantes en base al empleo.

Medidas de Aplicación de Ley: La propuesta comienza con la discusión sobre los “detonantes” que deben cumplirse durante los ocho años que los inmigrantes estarán en estado provisional antes de que se ajuste al estado permanente. Los detonadores incluyen un aumento de la Patrulla Fronteriza, de los inspectores de ICE, la ejecución de obras, la tecnología y la infraestructura en la frontera, el aumento de los recursos de los tribunales de inmigración, y otros artículos. No hay detalles específicos (número de agentes de la Patrulla Fronteriza, etc) incluidos en ésta propuesta.

Más allá de la sección de los factores “detonantes”, más personal de la Patrulla Fronteriza, el equipo y la infraestructura que se prevea, serán implementados más recursos y personal en los puertos de entrada. El programa US-VISIT de rastreo de las entradas/salidas será extendido a todos los puertos de entrada.

Las penalidades por diversas violaciones a las leyes de inmigración son incrementadas.

Cumplimiento de Responsabilidades: Además de un listado de más recursos, existen disposiciones para incrementar la responsabilidad del personal desplegado en la frontera. Por ejemplo, los oficiales de Aduanas y Protección Fronteriza recibirán capacitación sobre cómo evitar la discriminación racial y la forma de hacer frente a las poblaciones vulnerables, incluyendo a los niños y las víctimas de trata. Se prohibirá a los Estados la promulgación de sus propias leyes de inmigración. Se establecerá una Oficina de Enlace de Comunidades Fronterizas, responsable de la divulgación a los miembros de la comunidad y de la aplicación de un procedimiento estandarizado de reclamos.

La propuesta requeriría de normas mínimas para la detención, para el gobierno de gestión y centros privados de detención. Esto requeriría que el gobierno, antes de transferir a un detenido, espere hasta que se hayan hecho los arreglos para los niños del detenido, y para prestar la “consideración debida” a los mejores intereses del niño en las decisiones respecto a la detención o traslado. Se refuerza la protección de los niños y ciertos grupos vulnerables de la población.

La propuesta sería un incentivo para las víctimas de las violaciones de la legislación laboral a cooperar con la policía. La propuesta no eliminaría el polémico programa 287(g), pero se requeriría de la jurisdicción que participa en él, para que recoja y mantenga datos que ayuden a determinar si se encuentra en cumplimiento de la ley.

Tarjeta del Seguro Social Biométrica: La mayor parte de la propuesta está dedicado a describir un nuevo método de verificación de empleo, que involucra una tarjeta de Seguro Social con un identificador biométrico. El Senador Shumer, quien preside el Subcomité de Inmigración, ha sido un promotor de los identificadores biométricos para reducir el empleo no autorizado.

La tarjeta contendrá una fotografía y otro identificador biométrico, y será capaz de identificar al individuo sin que el empleador tenga que acceder a la base de datos central (aunque el permiso de trabajo se comprobará por medio de una base de datos en línea). Los identificadores no se almacenarán en una base de datos central. El uso de la tarjeta para fines distintos a los del permiso de trabajo estaría prohibido. Las personas tendrán diferentes procesos de remediación, incluyendo recursos judiciales, en caso de ser negados indebidamente el permiso de trabajo debido a datos erróneos. Se pondrían diversas formas de protección para evitar el mal uso del sistema.

Dentro de los cinco años posteriores a la promulgación, la nueva tarjeta biométrica del Seguro Social será el único documento aceptado para demostrar el permiso de trabajo. Las penalidades se incrementarían a los empleadores que contraten personal no autorizado para trabajar.

La propuesta requeriría del establecimiento de un sistema de registro nacional de nacimientos y defunciones.

Más Información: Lo anterior fue un breve esbozo de la propuesta. Puede encontrar información más detallada en los siguientes materiales:

- La Asociación Americana de Abogados de Inmigración (AILA) ha publicado el sumario en su página de Internet.
- AILA ha publicado también la propuesta (Ejecución Real con Respuestas Útiles para la Reforma Migratoria o REPAIR) en su página de Internet aquí.
- La reacción de la campaña Reforma Migratoria FOR América puede ser encontrada aquí.

¿Qué viene después? La propuesta no es un proyecto de ley. Contiene ideas que podrían incluirse en un proyecto de ley bipartidista, y es una invitación a los republicanos a unirse a la conversación. Hasta cierto punto, los Republicanos van a tener algo más que hacer que negarse a hacer cualquier cosa. También necesitamos que el Presidente de un paso al frente y lidere en éste asunto. Estamos en un entorno donde conseguir que todo se haga no va a ser fácil. Pero todavía hay tiempo, y si el Congreso puede convocar la voluntad, sin duda podrán aprobar una reforma de inmigración. La presión para actuar es cada vez más intensa, y se intensificará el 01 de mayo.

Fuera del Congreso, muchos estarán en desacuerdo con la propuesta como fue presentada. Sin dudas hay mucho espacio para las mejoras. Sin embargo, cualquier proyecto de ley que pueda moverse en el Senado y obtener los 60 votos necesarios para pasar, contendrá elementos de controversia. Si ésta propuesta se convierte en la legislación, representará la mejor oportunidad para ocuparse de la cuestión urgente de aliviar el miedo a la deportación y la separación de las familias, que sólo crecerá en los próximos años si el Congreso no aprueba una reforma migratoria éste año.

MÉXICO DEL NORTE

POR: JORGE MÚJICA MURIAS

De Prietos a Prietos

Parece ser el chiste de la semana. Se puede usar para despejar las dudas de cualquiera que no sea "blanco" de esos blancos así de blancos que más bien son rosados, y que llevaron a Steven Biko, el gran activista sudafricano contra el apartheid, asesinado por los "blancos"; a preguntar por qué lo llamaban "negro" cuando en realidad su color de piel era más bien café. En vez de blancos y negros se debía decir "rosados y cafés".

Claro que entre los cafés hay diferencias, y entre los rosados también. Los alemanes tienen más bien fama de "rojos" pero diferentes de los "píeles rojas", y a los suecos se les tacha de ser casi transparentes. Y luego están esos de tez cetrina, media aceitunada, desde algunos italianos hasta los indús, que también tienen sus diversidades de coloración, y llegan hasta el extremo de los Tuareg, los "hombres azules del desierto" que parece que todos los días comieran pasteles con color azul de Knor Suiza y ya se les pegó.

En medio de todos, cuestión de la mezcladora creada por la colonización aparejada con la lujuria por lo diferente, estamos los mexicanos. Desde nuestros indígenas aún sin mezcla, hasta nuestros norteros agigantados, las diferencias no solo son de tamaño sino de color de piel. Por algo se habla de la tierra y la raza mestiza.

Y pa' acabarla, luego están los hijos de todas esas mezclas con los italianos, anglosajones, alemanes, irlandeses y otros "eses" y los mestizos mexicanos que poblamos las tierras de México del Norte.

Algunos pobres de esos chavos conflictuados se preguntan a veces si son lo "suficientemente cafés", por la cruz de algún antecesor mestizo con un rosado, y que no hablan buen español, y de ahí el chiste. "Si quieres saber si eres suficientemente café, preguntale a un policía de Arizona", dicen. Por ley, te tendrá que responder con un arresto hasta que pruebes que aunque seas suficientemente prieto tienes "derecho a estar en el estado".

Prietos en Aprietos

Claro que la situación real no es chiste. Al contrario, en Arizona ahora se trata de mostrar que es uno suficientemente "blanco".

La semana pasada, dos días antes de aprobada la ley que entra en vigor hasta dentro de dos meses y medio, ya un policía de Arizona la aplicó en contra de un camionero que no traía más que licencia de manejo. Como la licencia no acredita ser de raza rosada, sino solamente que uno sabe manejar, el chota tuvo a bien arrestar al chofer, por "sospechoso".

Obviamente, las declaraciones del chofer de que era nacido en Estados Unidos no sirvieron más que para aumentar las "sospechas" del policía. La historia terminó horas después, cuando el mismo agente llevó a su casa al prieto y lo hizo sacar su acta de nacimiento.

Todo el mundo asegura que la ley no solamente elimina el concepto universal de que uno es inocente hasta que se demuestre lo contrario, pero el problema mayor no es de precepto jurídico sino colorístico. Cualquiera que sea suficientemente rosado será "sospechoso".

La segunda parte del chiste es que lo primero que va a quebrar, y no por efecto del macro-boicot declarado contra todo lo que tenga que ver con Arizona, son los salones de bronceado. ¡Imagínese! ¿Quién se va a arriesgar a ponerse prieto cuando la ley castiga la prietez? Por el contrario, a la mejor aumentan las ventas de los salones de belleza especializados en volver gueras a la prietas.

Ya fuera de las bromas, la situación es grave, pero también es una oportunidad de empujar de una vez por todas por la reforma migratoria. La SB1070 es la Sensenbrenner del 2010, y es otro regalo para el movimiento a favor de la reforma. Como en 2006 con la HR4437, la SB1070 ha logrado lo que los activistas nunca podemos hacer nomás así porque sí: sacar a la gente de la apatía y sacarla a las calles y ponerla tan furiosa que está dispuesta a hacer algo.

Sin duda las marchas del Primero de Mayo de este año rebasarán las de los años anteriores, pero no habrá que quedarse ahí. Habrá que seguir aprovechando la furia y hacer acción tras acción hasta lograr algo.

Y de nuevo nos trae aliados. Nadie, excepto los Minuteman y la derecha fascista como el Ku-Klux Klan aprueban el racismo. Hasta el congresista republicano Tom Tancredo, acérrimo enemigo de los migrantes ya declaró que la ley es excesiva.

El no marchará, pero podemos ganar cientos de miles de miles de aliados rosados (y azules y aceitunados y morenos y cafés con leche y transparentes). Hay que aprovecharlos en beneficio de los prietos. ¡Ya es hora!

El Náufrago

Había una vez un hombre, que luego de haberse peleado con su última novia, decidió ir de vacaciones. Se fue en un crucero y lo pasó fabuloso... hasta que se hundió el barco.

Naufragó a una isla desierta, no había nada, sólo bananas y cocos. Después de unos 4 meses, estaba sentado en la playa cuando ve que se acerca remando un botecito la mujer más hermosa del mundo. El hombre no lo puede creer y le pregunta: ¿De dónde has venido?? ¿Cómo has llegado hasta aquí??

Ella le responde: "remé desde el otro lado de la isla. Naufragué aquí cuando se hundió el crucero donde iba de vacaciones. Y el diálogo continúa...

¡Qué increíble! ¡Qué suerte que tuviste que un bote te llevó a la costa! ¿Oh, éste bote? Yo hice éste bote con materiales crudos de la isla. Los remos fueron hechos de ramas de árboles. Entretejé el fondo del bote con hojas de palmeras y los lados del bote fueron hechos superponiendo hojas de gomeritos. Los dos extremos los recubrí con hojas de eucalipto. Pero ¿dónde encontraste las herramientas?

Ah, eso no fue ningún problema. En el lado sur de la isla hay un estrato muy inusual de roca aluvial que se ve expuesto. Lo trituré y quemé los trozos a una determinada temperatura en el horno de barro que me hice. Se convirtió en una especie de hierro dúctil y eso usé para hacer las herramientas.

El tipo queda anonadado.

¿Que te parece si remamos hasta mi casa? Le dice ella. Luego de un rato de remar, llegan a un pequeño embarcadero. El hombre no puede creer lo que ve. Delante de él hay un camino hecho de piedras lisas que llega a un hermoso búngalo pintado en azul y blanco. Mientras que van caminando hacia la casa, ella dice:

No es nada del otro mundo, pero yo la llamo 'mi casa'. Por favor siéntate. ¿Que te doy de beber?

Nada, gracias. No soportaría tener que tomar jugo de coco una vez más. Es lo único que he bebido en todos estos meses, no lo soporto más.

-Ah!, pero no es sólo jugo de coco. Yo me hice una pequeña destilería para destilar alcohol. ¿No te gustaría una piña colada?

Tratando de disimular su total asombro, el hombre acepta y se sientan a charlar. Luego de haber charlado un rato y haberse contado sus historias, ella le dice: Me voy a refrescar un poco y a ponerme algo más cómodo. ¿A ti te gustaría darte una ducha y afeitarte? Hay una rasuradora en el armario del baño.

A estas alturas el hombre ya no cuestiona nada. Va al baño y encuentra una navaja muy afilada hecha de hueso de tortuga con un mecanismo de eslabón giratorio. El hombre piensa: "Esta mujer es INCREÍBLE. ¿Que más tendrá para sorprenderme?"

Al volver a la sala, encuentra a la mujer vestida sólo con hojas de vid puestas en lugares estratégicos y oliendo a perfume de gardenias. Ella le pide que se sienta a su lado.

"Dime", le dice ella muy sugestiva y prácticamente echándose encima, "Hemos sido náufragos durante muchos meses. Tu has estado muy solitario.

Estoy segura que debe haber algo que quieres hacer inmediatamente, AHORA MISMO, ¿HAY ALGO QUE HAS AÑORADO DESESPERADAMENTE?

Ella lo mira a los ojos y parpadea...

El traga saliva excitadamente y se le empiezan a caer lágrimas por sus mejillas y le dice....

NO ME DIGAS QUE TAMBIÉN TIENES FUTBOL VIA SATELITE????????!!!!!!

HOROSCOPE

ARIES: MARCH 21 - APRIL 20

You make it easy for others to take advantage of you. The tendency to overlook things and your inability to see through their disguise has you scurrying around trying to please people who are no good.

TAURUS: APRIL 21 - MAY 20

You're doing well in spite of multiple demands and emotional issues that are pretty intense. A sense of humor and the ability to stay centered will make it easier to stop sweating the small stuff.

GEMINI: MAY 21 - JUNE 20

This is all subject to change. Our expectations are always at the mercy of things that come along to show us that you never know what'll happen. What you don't expect is about to surprise you with a new set of plans.

CANCER: JUNE 21 - JULY 20

Hanging on to someone or something because you think things will pan out down the road is risky business. Whatever this is about, it isn't solid enough to meet your hopes and can't be considered a good investment.

LEO: JULY 21 - AUGUST 20

Someone's sensitivity is focused only on themselves. When love doesn't include the idea that it's a two-way trail, getting what you want from a person who thinks it's all about them is an exercise in futility.

VIRGO: AUGUST 21 - SEPTEMBER 20

Pushing your luck always comes at a time when it's running out. With no more tricks up your sleeve the realm of possibility seems less until you realize that you now have the freedom to try anything.

LIBRA: SEPTEMBER 21 - OCTOBER 20

The way out never looks the way it's supposed to. You weren't planning on making this move and what you didn't see coming is filled with elements of intensity that are totally blowing your mind.

SCORPIO: OCTOBER 21 - NOVEMBER 20

Some people say you only live once. The ones who tell us we go around again and again say that Karma is sown through experience. In a hundred years we'll all be dead. If this feels right to you jump on it.

SAGITTARIUS: NOVEMBER 21 - DECEMBER 20

Pride always comes before a fall. When it comes to tooting your own horn it's usually better to let your merits speak for themselves. Don't get too big for your britches. It'll wind up dragging you down.

CAPRICORN: DECEMBER 21 - JANUARY 20

The loss of whatever you thought you were will make room for your authentic self to shine through. Life may be handing you more than your share but don't resist any of it and don't be afraid of who you're becoming.

AQUARIUS: JANUARY 21 - FEBRUARY 20

You're seeing so much about yourself you can't believe you've kept it hidden. There's something to be said for knowing more about the truth. Now that the veil of illusion isn't there, who are you?

PISCES: FEBRUARY 21 - MARCH 20

Going along with the program isn't going to work this time. In case you haven't noticed things have changed and in the long run it would be best if you lost the need to do your life the way it's always been done.

Soccer: Crew tops New England, 3 to 2

Robbie Rogers scored a dramatic stoppage-time winner as the Crew defeated the New England Revolution, 3-2, Saturday at Crew Stadium. Columbus remains unbeaten with a 3-0-2 record and has won all three of its home games.

The winning goal came after New England defender Darrius Barnes had cleared a header by Jason Garey off the goal line. Rogers pounced on the loose ball and skipped the winner past Revs keeper Preston Burpo and into the roof of the net.

Zak Boggs made the most of his first MLS start, scoring twice for New England, but the Revolution (2-5-1) dropped to 0-4-1 in the past five games. Boggs, a rookie midfielder, scored in the 29th and 40th minutes.

proven popular year after year.

A green ecology camp brings the message of caring for the environment along with a series of fun activities. How about skateboarding camps? It's another unique way to learn or enhance a skill and enjoy every bit of the time.
